

IN-HOME CARE

The most cost-effective solution for your business and employees

FACT: Each year, caring for aging parents results in $33 billion of lost productivity.

So many adult children lose time from work in order to care for aging parents, not realizing that agencies like Accredited can provide professional caregivers to help seniors remain safe and comfortable at home. We're a full-service agency that employs its staff (background checks, workers' comp, professional liability, payroll taxes, etc.) and we have 29 years' experience right here in Southern California.

FACT: Many home care agencies have little or no Workers' Compensation experience and don't understand "Return to Work."

Having an employee on the sideline hurts your company in several ways. For 29 years, Accredited has worked with Workers' Comp carriers and Third Party Administrators, providing enthusiastic caregivers to promote safe recuperation and encourage a return to normal routines.

As an employer of 4,000 workers, we understand the urgency to return employees to work quickly following an injury.

To find out how Accredited can support your business and employees, call Neil Rotter, Vice President of Business Development, at ext. 114.
