

Accredited Home Health welcomes Debra Bear as Rehabilitation Manager of West LA office

Accredited Home Health Services, one of California's largest privately-owned and most comprehensive home healthcare providers, is pleased to welcome Debra Bear, MS, PT to the clinical management team of its West LA office.

Debra joins Accredited after serving the past ten years in various field and management positions with UCLA Home Health. Her background includes more than 30 years in physical therapy. After completing her undergraduate work at Cal State Northridge in 1974 (BS, Health Sciences with minor in Public Health), she earned her Master's Degree in Physical Therapy from the University of Southern California in 1976.

"Debra will make an outstanding addition to our West LA management team," noted Accredited administrator and owner Barry Berger. "As we expand the Accredited footprint into the South Bay and other parts of LA County, Debra's expertise will enable our clinicians to best address the therapy needs of homebound patients."

"Accredited Home Health is well known for its clinical outcomes and consistent delivery of quality care," said Debra. "I look forward to helping Accredited raise the bar as the company continues to grow."

Debra has continued her education throughout her career, and has completed coursework in the areas of orthopedics, neurology, Mackenzie technique, Myofascial Release Treatment and therapeutic exercise. Debra worked as a certified Lamaze instructor (for 15 years), with a certificate from UCLA extension.

In addition to devoting time to charitable organizations, Debra enjoys spending quality time with her husband of 37 years, Michael, and their children, Daniel, 27, who is pursuing a doctorate degree in economics in London and Brianne, 21, a Fashion Merchandising student at Cal State Long Beach.
